Re: UK Plastic Packaging Tax (General) Regulations 2022

On the 1st April 2022, the Plastic Packaging Tax (General) Regulations 2022 came into effect in the United Kingdom. This tax is targeted at plastic packaging materials which contain less than 30% recycled materials.

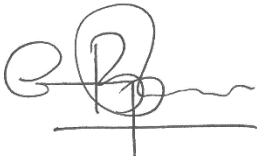

Klipspringer Ltd is working with our supply chain to ensure full compliance with this new legislation.

Our primary interest is to source/use products which contain the required threshold of 30% recycled material.

A number of our products are approved for food contact use in the food supply chain. This means it is not appropriate to contain recycled materials which are not food contact approved. These products will be subject to the Plastic Packaging Tax, and this will be reflected within the net selling price.

We will continue to invest in research and development to close the gap between food contact approved and recycled materials.

Yours faithfully,

Guy Bush
